The loneliness of the long-distance pianist

Rising Russian star Yevgeny Sudbin speaks to Inge Kjemtrup about his passion for Medtner, the pleasure of writing his own programme notes and the challenge of sifting through 555 Scarlatti sonatas
