Christopher Makos, né en 1948 dans le Massachusetts, grandit en Californie et s'installa à New York après sa scolarité. Dans les années 70, il part à Paris pour suivre des études d'architecture et travaille comme apprenti auprès de Man Ray.

C'est par la suite qu'il rencontre Andy Warhol à l'occasion d'une de ses expositions au Withney Museum et ainsi démarrera une relation d'amitié qui amènera les 2 artistes à voyager et travailler fréquemment ensemble.

Fin des années 70, Christopher Makos rencontra Keith Haring et l'invita à la Factory pour rencontrer Andy Wharol et ainsi Keith Haring présenta Jean-Michel Basquiat à Andy Wharol. Ces années 70-80 donneront lieu à de nombreux clichés connus à travers le monde.

Christopher Makos créa dans les années 80 le Magazine INTERVIEW où il publiait les photos de la scène artistique New-Yorkaise .

Les photographies de Christopher Makos ont été exposées au Guggenheim de Bilbao, à la Tate Modern de Londres, au Musée d'art Américain Withney de New-York ou encore à la National Gallery à Washington.

Ses œuvres se retrouvent notamment dans les collections permanentes de l'IVAM à Valence, au Musée Reina Sofia de Madrid ou encore la National Portrait Gallery de Washington.

L'exposition proposée à la galerie s'oriente exclusivement sur des moments avec Andy Warhol et ce dans la prolongation de l'exposition « Warhol – The American Dream Factory » organisée actuellement par Tempora au Musée de La Boverie à Liège.

Christopher Makos was born in Lowell, Massachusetts, grew up in California, and moved to New York City after high school. He studied architecture in Paris and briefly worked as an apprentice to Man Ray. During the 1970's and 80's, Makos traveled frequently with good friend and frequent portrait subject Andy Warhol. Makos works such as the Altered Image series (1981), along with the photos collected in MAKOS/WARHOL (1987), are widely viewed as forming that era's most complete and compelling photographic record of Warhol and his milieu.

Makos' works have been exhibited at galleries and museums world-wide, including The Guggenheim Museum, Bilbao, The Tate Modern, London, The National Gallery, Washington, D.C., The Whitney Museum of American Art, New York, and The Brooklyn Museum, New York.

His work is in the permanent collections of The IVAM in Valencia (Spain), The Reina Sofia Museum, Madrid, and the National Portrait Gallery, Washington, D.C. His pictures have appeared in magazines and newspapers including Paris Match and the WSJ International Edition.

He is the author of numerous books, including White Trash, (1976), Warhol/Makos In Context (2007), Andy Warhol China 1982 (2007), Christopher Makos Polaroids (2009) and most recently, Everything: The Black and White Monograph (2014).
